The chairman of the Bi-Centennial Committee, John DeCosta, asked the Florence Eastman Post if they would organize the Bi-Centennial parade for the third week in June 1976. A committee was formed, and the following men were named: Dr. Manuel C. Rosenfield, chairman; Gabriel Botelho, Elmer Sylvia, Robert Nunes and Robert Raphael. The parade committee will hold its first meeting on Monday night, November 18, at 8 P.M. at post headquarters.

The November meeting of the Florence Eastman Post 280 will be held on the third Wednesday of November, the 20th, at Post headquarters at 8 P.M.

John DeCosta

Letter to the Editor

At the outset I wish to commend Chairman Robert A. Silveira and the members of the School Committee for their careful consideration and recent action taken to permit bells to toll at the Center School as an answer to a complaint to silence the bells.

Evidently the complainant, a Mattapoisett resident, was a solitary objector to the ringing of the bells. I believe the objector acted in haste and in an impatient disregard for the feelings of others on the issue.

Before considering court action as alleged by the complainant, one would assume that the first course of action would be to consult with the people of Mattapoisett who were in close proximity to the school and ask for their opinion. Perhaps the complainant does not care about the feelings of others.

It would be enlightening to discover that over the years many of us have depended on the Seth Thomas clock in the school's bell tower to remind us of certain obligations, regardless of how close our own clock or watch is to us. Somehow the bells are signals for many of us, signifying that the time is drawing nearer to the time when we must do certain things or meet certain obligations in our daily routine.

Instead of going directly to the people of Mattapoisett the complainant went to the police, then to the Selectmen, and finally to the school committee.

This fervent desire to silence the bells for all of us was a selfish one indeed. The first course of action, as suggested, could have been easily consummated. A consensus of opinion could have been obtained either through the pages of the Presto Press or by a house-to-house canvas.

It seems inconceivable to me that the objection to the ringing of the bells was raised at all. Actually it dealt with the "late evening hours" of the day. That is to say, the bells at 11 P.M. and again at midnight. The complainant, however, according to an article published recently in the New Bedford Standard-Times, was summed up as being "from 11 P.M. on". Does this mean that the complainant also is disturbed after the midnight bells have been struck? One bell for one o'clock, etc.

Let us remember that this historic clock has functioned for 80 years in the bell tower, and if there were complaints, the advantages must have outweighed the complaints by far. Perhaps it would be well to bear in mind that bells are not the only disturbances during the night. Some of them originate in one's own household. A physician, if asked, could cite many examples. He might tell of fretful children, ailing children, worry, or disturbing thoughts, to mention a few things that give people insomnia.

If the bells are a disturbing factor for anyone, there is an easy solution toward silencing the sound of not only bells but anything else that has a disturbing effect. It is simply this; Get yourself a pair of ear plugs.

Respectfully submitted,

Rogers, Saltzman revive old issue

The state Senate race wormed its way into the council chambers last night when two candidates clashed over a six-month-old issue.

Councillors George Rogers and William Saltzman, two of three councillors running for the Bristol-Plymouth seat, locked horns and traded insults over last spring's expense account issue. The council's third Senate candidate, Paul G. Hamel, stayed away from the verbal sparring.

The expense account issue, resurrected on a motion by Saltzman, involved an April council vote (which was eventually killed) to set aside $24,400 to create individual expense accounts for each councillor and the mayor.

Saltzman last night submitted a written motion to have the city solicitor rule whether the council can properly vote itself expense accounts without explaining where the money goes.

After a number of complaints charging Saltzman with using the council as a campaign forum, the council voted to send the motion to the city solicitor for an opinion.

But not before Rogers had called Saltzman a liar, nor before Saltzman in return called Rogers a liar and a crook. Nor before Rogers threatened to bring suit against Saltzman.

Sales Tax

Absolutely opposed to any expansion or increase - this tax hurts most those who are least able to pay.

Fiscal Responsibility

The state government should not be allowed to mandate programs without providing up-front monies or allowing a municipality to accept or reject program.

Right To Privacy

Credit reporting sources should not be protected - also individuals should be entitled to copies of their files.

Openness In Government

Legislative files should be opened as well as those of the executive - people are entitled to information on which decisions are based.

WHY IS BARBARA RUNNING?

Many people in Wareham, Marion, Mattapoisett and Carver have asked Barbara this question ... she is running because she is concerned about the incumbent's lack of visibility for the past eight years ... she is concerned about his refusal to meet the people of the District, and show any interest in their problems (he doesn't even attend his own Town Meeting in Wareham) ... she is concerned about the lack of leadership the incumbent has shown since being in office ... she is concerned about the waste of millions of dollars in State Government, and throughout the District, since the incumbent's tenure ... she is concerned because she knows what everyday problems we are facing.

There are many other reasons why Barbara is running .. tune in November 3rd at 8 P.M. to WCIB-Stereo 102 FM in Falmouth when Barbara and her opponent will be interviewed by newsmen ... it will be a good chance for you to compare the candidates .. and find out why so many people are supporting Barbara Lacasse!

Mrs. Rosalee Sinn from Plymouth, the New England Director of Heifer Project International, will present an unusual talk and slides of her travels throughout Central and South America. Mrs. Sinn has seen the wondrous effect on child and adult faces when these gifts of animals, from churches of America, are presented, and the health and growth that comes from these gifts of love. People can help themselves.

Tickets are available not only from members of the Missionary Committee, but at the church office, 748-1053, at the door that evening or call Grace Cobb, 748-0629.

It will be a wonderful opportunity to meet your friends for a fantastic meal and a very entertaining and informative evening.

Bring the children too, because they will enjoy it.

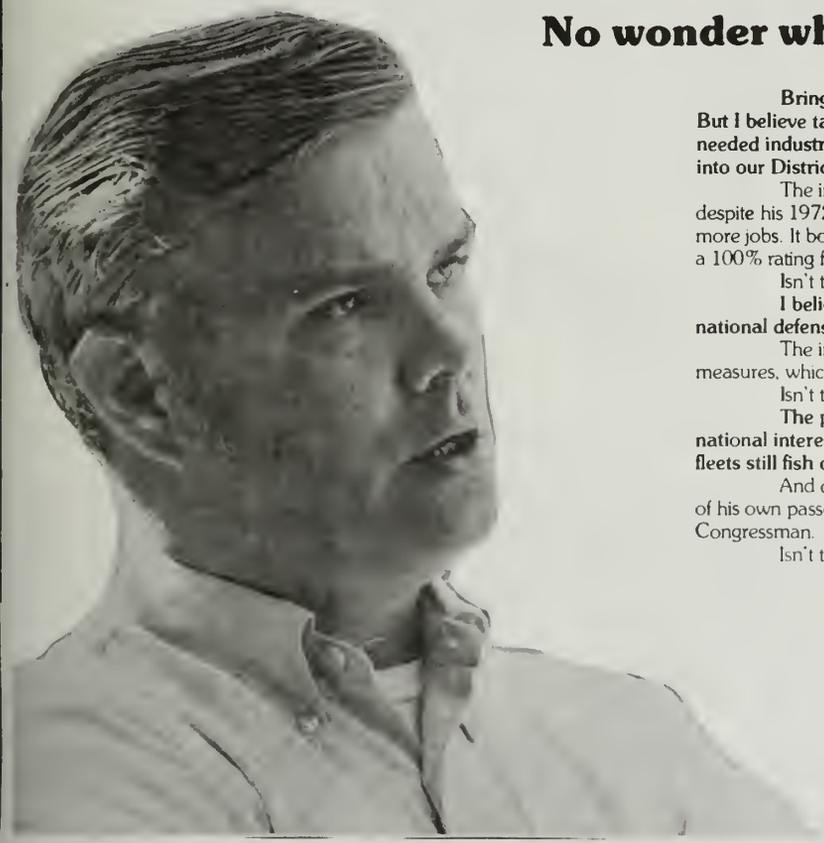
"Since 1972, the incumbent politician has received over $40,000 from big labor and special interest groups.



No wonder when big labor talks, he listens."

Bringing new industry and jobs to our District is of utmost importance. But I believe tax incentives, not big labor political contributions, will attract the needed industry. When elected, I will assign a full time assistant to bring industry into our District.

The incumbent politician believes in accepting big labor political contributions, despite his 1972 campaign promises to the contrary. Yet, this $40,000 in gifts didn't buy us more jobs. It bought you a soaring unemployment rate. And gained him (and only 10 others) a 100% rating from big labor's lobby group, AFL/CIO C.O.P.E.

Isn't that peculiar?

I believe Federal spending should be cut to reduce inflation, not our national defense.

The incumbent politician has voted for every spending bill except national defense measures, which he habitually votes against.

Isn't that peculiar?

The performance of Congress over the last two years has served neither the national interest nor this District. Unemployment is up. Inflation, rampant. And foreign fleets still fish our waters.

And despite what the incumbent politician would have you believe, he's had no bill of his own passed since he's been in Washington. Yet, he continually tells us he's a very good Congressman.

Isn't that peculiar?

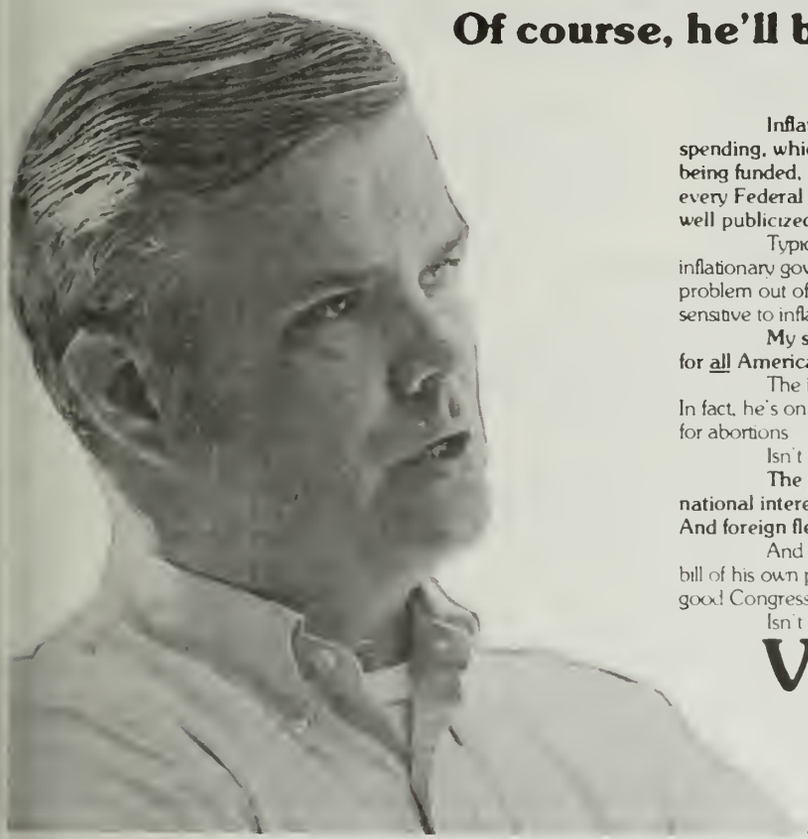
"The incumbent politician believes in spending all problems out of existence.

Of course, he'll be using your money."



Inflation is the single largest problem we have today. And needless Federal spending, which feeds inflation, must be cut out. Too many worthless programs are being funded, year after year, simply because they were funded before. I propose that every Federal program should be reevaluated for effectiveness. And the price tag well publicized.

Typically, in a recent debate, the incumbent politician proposed yet another inflationary government "work" program funded by new taxes. In other words, spend the problem out of existence with your tax money. Of course, if you're a bachelor, you're not as sensitive to inflationary pressures on family finances.

My six children attest to my belief in life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness for all Americans, including the unborn.

The incumbent politician refuses to legally protect the lives of unborn children. In fact, he's on record for having voted to provide Federal funds (sound familiar?) for abortions.

Isn't that peculiar?

The performance of Congress over the last two years has served neither the national interest nor that of this District. Unemployment is up. Inflation, rampant. And foreign fleets still fish our waters.

And despite what the incumbent politician would have you believe, he's had no bill of his own passed since he's been in Washington. Yet, he continually tells us he's a very good Congressman.

Art History, spans a one hundred and fifty year period, beginning in the 1680's. The rubbings display a wide variety of images, symbols and styles, and trace in general the development of Anglo-America's oldest sculptural art.

The rubbings are the result of a project undertaken by Cape Cod Community College students enrolled in Dr. Firestone's summer course, The American Folk Art Tradition, held at Heritage Plantation of Sandwich. The project attempted to make a complete inventory of Cape Cod gravestones, and the rubbings seen in the exhibition represent some of the more notable stones located in the process.
